OLD MCGILL ENJOYS THE ALMA MATER

A Brilliant Climax to Social Functions of the Year.

GREAT SUCCESS.

Sir Arthur and Lady Currie Among Patrons and Patronesses.

Capping a series of brilliant social functions held this season in the Union, the Alma Mater dance, which took place last night, undoubtedly maintained its reputation as being THE event in its line of the season. All the tickets were, of course, sold days ago, and the crowd was thus limited, to do away with congestion. The Union has never this year been decorated so fittingly as was the case last evening. The ballroom was hung with flags and pennants and the various faculty emblems. The "thermometer," a relic of the Junior Prom, on which was registered the number of the dance, was topped by an electric-lighted crown, which added to its effect considerably. Fir trees were conspicuous by their placing around the walls. On the second floor numerous comfortable sitting-out places were arranged.

It cannot be said of the supper that it was "of the usual Union standard," for it was far above it; and the person accustomed to voice complaint was silent as to his fare last evening. Taken altogether, this year's Alma Mater dance is a fitting conclusion to the year's social activities, and will linger long in the memory of those who attended.

Among those present were: Sir Arthur and Lady Currie, Dean and Mrs. Adams, Dean and Mrs. Birckett, Dean and Mrs. Thornton, Hon. Justice and Mrs. Greenshields, Prof. and Mrs. Harkness, Dr. and Mrs. Nicholson, Mr. and Mrs. Glasco, Miss Hurlbatt.

COL. MACPHAIL WILL SPEAK AT SC. DINNER

Science Dinner Will Be Held on Tuesday, March 15

AT 7.15 P.M.

Col. MacPhail Had Brilliant Career During the Late War.

Preparations are complete for the annual banquet of the Science Undergraduates' Society, which is being held at 7.15 p.m. on Tuesday next, the 15th March, at The Claridge, formerly The Blue Bird.

After the dinner has been served, and the health of His Majesty the King has been drunk, the guest of honor, Colonel Alexander Macphail, C.M.G., D.S.O., will make the only speech of the evening. Then follows a cabaret performance.

Colonel Macphail was born in Prince Edward Island, and graduated from McGill with the class of Science '03. He won the 1851 Scholarship and spent three years studying mathematics and philosophy in Germany, among his teachers being the great Helmholtz. He returned to practice his profession of a civil engineer in the New England States, and later went to Queens University, where he now holds the position of Professor of Civil Engineering.

On the outbreak of the late war he collected a number of his former students, who had served in the Militia Field Company which he commanded, and reached Valcartier on the 17th August, 1914, among the first troops that arrived. He landed in France as captain and second in command of the 1st Field Coy., C.E., with the First Canadian Division, with which Division he served until the end of the war, and the termination of the Canadian watch on the Rhine.

Of all the officers that started with that famous Division, only six served in it continuously, and one of the six he was.

As a reward for his work, successive promotion to the ranks of Major, Lieutenant-Colonel and Colonel followed his arrival in France, together with the awards of the D.S.O., the C.M.G., the Belgian Croix de Guerre, a Russian decoration and several mentions in despatches.

In addition to these achievements, he has written sonnets which were very favorably received by critics in England and Canada, has a profound knowledge of music, and is by way of being something of a humorist.

Such a diversity of attainments is rare in the present day, and it is to be hoped that as many students as possible will avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing him, with such other attractions as are offered.

So far, First and Second Year Science have done nothing to support the banquet, though comprising as they do over two-thirds of the Science students, but it is hoped that will be remedied to-day. Cope, 1st Year, and Winters, of 2nd Year, have tickets for sale, at $2.50 each.

The party will finish early, and work can be done, or class exams prepared for, afterwards.

DR. OLDHAM WILL SPEAK AT SERVICE

Entire Student Body Requested To Be Present

AT 11 A.M.

Student Choir, Assisted by Student Orchestra Will Furnish Music.

Arrangements have been completed for the Sunday Morning Service at the Union. All that is needed now is the interest and support of the student body, and that is sure to be accorded on Sunday morning. The service will begin promptly at 11 o'clock. There is no prospect that this meeting will start even ten minutes late.

While McGill students have frequent opportunities to hear representative men of other cities and countries as they pass our way—men renowned in science, literature, politics, etc.—it is not often that we have an opportunity, as a college group, to listen to men similarly prominent in the field of religion. And there are many such who wield a profound influence upon public thought and sentiment in this and in other countries, and whose voices we do not hear, although they are often within our borders. This is not the age when we can afford to turn deaf or inattentive ears to the voices of our religious leaders, or deny expression to the best that scholarship can

THE UNION SERVICE

To-morrow morning will present McGill with an opportunity of attending an undenominational Sunday morning service in the Union; it will further give to every member of the Students' Society the privilege of listening to an international religious leader—one who is recognized as such both in North America and in England.

The trend of religious development has effects on society as wide and lasting as those of the development of science and of knowledge and of politics. This fact has been realized, to some degree at least, of late, and consideration has been given to the apparently slackening grip religion is exerting on the present generation. This condition is the natural outcome of such a complete separation as exists to-day between our religious life and our everyday occupations. The only way to bring the college student in close touch with religion and with the high ideals of religion is to associate these with University life. To this end a step in advance has undoubtedly been taken by the authorities in sanctioning such a meeting as will take place to-morrow.

The service, which as emphasized above, is entirely undenominational, will start promptly at eleven. If you miss this gathering you are not only neglecting the duty you owe to the University for the responsibility it has undertaken in securing such a speaker in hopes of attaining a representative attendance, but you are overlooking the chance of being present at what will without doubt prove a most successful innovation at McGill.

X-RAY ANALYSIS OF MATERIALS

Dr. J. A. Gray Gave a Lecture Before Chemical Society.

Yesterday afternoon Dr. J. A. Gray, of the Physics Department, lectured before the Chemical Society on "The Examination of Materials by X-Rays."

In 1912 it occurred to Laue, of Zurich, that the atoms of a crystal, being arranged in a space-lattice, might serve as a diffraction-grating for X-rays. The experiment was successfully attempted by Friedrich and Knipping. The problem was greatly simplified by Bragg, who showed that the X-rays could be reflected from the faces of a crystal, when the crystal face made certain definite angles with the incident pencil.

Now it has been shown by Mosely that there are two series of lines in the X-rays given off by the elements when the frequencies of these radiations are plotted against the atomic number of the element they are connected by a linear relation. This, of course, depends on the use of a crystal to measure the wave lengths.

When X-rays are reflected from a sodium chloride crystal, which is a simple cubic lattice, rays will be scattered by both the Na and Cl atoms, but as the Cl is considerably heavier, there will be overlapping of the scattered rays. The lecturer showed this by explanatory diagrams. In zinc sulphide various other things take place, which the lecturer explained by more diagrams.

The structure of diamond is very simple. The atoms are arranged in tetrahedra, the whole forming an octahedral crystal.

The lecturer next described the way one arrives at the distances between the various planes in the crystal. Using the Barlow-Pope theory of Valency-Volumes, Bragg has shown how an estimate may be made of the size of the atoms of the various elements.

R. V. C. NOTES

AN OPPORTUNITY.

How often have you wished, when reminded of the starving millions of Europe, and of other famine-stricken countries, that you might be able to really help, and yet have felt that any thing you could afford to give was too small to be of real value? Go, rid of that idea right away. Here is a chance offered for which nothing is too small. The Imperial War Relief Fund gives you a means of helping. It has issued stamps, after the system of Thrift stamps, which you can buy with the spare coppers or nickels that so often run off with unnecessary chocolate bars and all-day suckers? The stamps are only 2 cents each, and, think of it, 2 stamps means 1 breakfast for a starving fellow student in Europe! All you have to do is to feel generous and then go to your class President and ask her for the stamps.

The following are the girls from whom these stamps may be obtained: Fourth Year—Ethelwyn Holland. Third Year—Shirley MacRae. Second Year—Lorna Kerr. First Year—Carroll Robertson.

DEMONSTRATION.

Dress rehearsals for all in Fancy Costume Saturday next, March 12th, at 2 p.m. sharp. Everyone in a dance with costumes must be present. Arrangements will be posted later.

Those who signed up for Mrs. Irwin's Contest must have their manuscripts in, on or before March 15th. These are to be handed to Miss Hackett, President of the Delta Sigma Society.

The method of Hall in examining powdered materials was next described.

The effects of rolling metals and other treatments and their effects on the crystalline structure can be followed by X-ray analysis. Some applications have been made to the testing of castings.

THE YEARBOOK GOES TO PRESS

Executive Satisfied With Progress Made So Far.

The Year Book, which is now in the hands of the printers, is proceeding steadily upon the last lap of its existence. The executive, which is keeping in close touch with its progress through the presses, expresses itself thoroughly satisfied with the manner in which the production of the book is proceeding. Engravings this year are of unusual excellence, owing to the fact that the ample margin of time allowed by the Editorial Board to the engravers has allowed them to put some of their best work upon the Year Book.

It is only to be expected that some of the clubs and other activities whose pictures will appear in the book minus accompanying write-ups, or vice-versa, will bring forward the usual complaint. This year, however, they will have absolutely no excuse to offer for their own negligence. The Editorial Board gave all executives plenty of time to bring in their material, and published from time to time notices in the "Daily", calling the attention of the tardy ones to the fact that a definite limit had been set for the reception of reading matter for the Year Book.

April the First, then, should see the first volume of the new McGill publication upon the market, and, as a sale of over twelve hundred copies is already assured, little apprehension is felt as to the financial success of the venture.

What price now all the long winter nights in which you once thought you would get your year's work done?

THEATRES

PRINCESS.

Next week at the Princess Theatre will mark the first appearance in Montreal of the Delightful Star of the London Music Halls when Ella Shields, "The Ideal of Ideals," will headline an all-feature programme. Ella Shields is a male impersonator, she portrays three types of men, that of a young swaggering naval officer, a "dude" and a millionaire "hobo." She has appropriate songs for each characterization and each represents a high point in lyrics and melody. Miss Shields has mounted to the very pinnacle of British approval, is an artist to her finger tips and is entitled to the success she is enjoying on both sides of the Atlantic.

Mabel Tallafiero, the charming artist of the stage and screen, will be seen in a one-act comedy, entitled, "Connie," written specially for her by Tom Barry. Of recent years Miss Tallafiero has been in pictures, and conspicuous for her absence from the spoken stage for some three years, but she is assured a hearty welcome upon her return.

Clara Howard is a versatile and pretty young woman with a manner quite magnetic. As a singing comedienne, Miss Howard has individuality, and as a mimic, she has brought to the stage probably the most accurate and decidedly exuberant imitation of Charlie Chaplin. Dudley Liddell and Del Gibson, the latter a Montreal boy who has become a favourite throughout America, will make their first appearance here. They call their offering, "Just Vaudeville," which is combined of singing, talking and dancing. Senator F. Murphy is one of the foremost statesmen of the great national tribunal which doesn't make laws, but makes fun. He is one of the best monologists of the period and has selected the political situation as his topic of discourse. Tim and Kitty O'Meara will be seen in a modern elaborately staged dance offering, ably assisted at the piano by Huston Ray, an accomplished pianist. In the early sixties, Jos. M. Norcross was one of the most popular minstrels, he is now in vaudeville with his wife, Nellie K. Norcross, and together they offer a singing number entitled, "A Song Glimpse of Yesterday," and Samsted and Marlon offer "The Bachelor's Vision" a remarkable athletic novelty.

ORPHEUM.

The attraction at the Orpheum Theatre next week, "Rose of Killarney," is a delightful blending of romance, milk and melody. The author of the play has demonstrated that it is possible to construct an Irish play that is bright and in keeping with the spirit of the people portrayed without having recourse to lines or plot that might arouse the slightest racial or political feeling. In "Rose of Killarney" he has selected for his characters types that are representative of the most lovable of the Irish race and the heroine of the play is typical of the loving, generous and romantic Irish colleen known the world over. The story centres around the sacrifice made by her in order that the lad she loves may go to a foreign land and avail himself of an opportunity to become famous and win a career. Rather than permit him to give up the golden opportunity she hides her love, professes her preference for another and permits the man she loves to go away while she remains behind to suffer in silence the price of her self sacrifice. In America the Irish lad wins fame, but the love of the colleen he left behind still burns in his heart, and not the adulation nor the wealth he has won can erase her from his memory. But circumstances favor the two lovers and they meet again, in America, and when both return to the old land there is a happy culmination of the romance which the separation has only strengthened.

Those who like comedy will find it in abundance in "Rose of Killarney." It is of the spontaneous kind and the gems of Irish wit are countless. The delightful love story which forms the background of the play is as fragrant as a breath of Old Ireland. But while the romance and comedy are generously woven into the play, the other essential of all Irish plays is not forgotten, namely the music. A number of the familiar Irish ballads have been introduced and those who see "Rose of Killarney" will find it one of the brightest entertainments of the season.

LOEW'S.

A spectacular musical revue, "Topics and Tunes" will be featured at Loew's Theatre next week. This act, presented by Victor Hyde, is offered by a pre-eminent cast of artists and is replete with plenty of good singing and dancing.

Will J. Evans, the "happy hobo," is announced as an added star attraction. Mr. Evans has just completed an engagement with the N. Y. Hippodrome and is recognized in theatrical circles as Nat Wills' successor.

Farrell and Hatch will sing song hits in their own way; Herras and Preston are eccentric tumblers and Florence Henry and Co. will be seen in a clever one-act comedy playlet called "The Real Remedy."

The picture feature will be supplied by "Fatty" Arbuckle in "The Life of the Party"—a five act comedy scream. "Fatty" needs no introduction to the fun-loving motion picture fans, so it will suffice to say that this latest production of his has been lauded wherever it has appeared.

"Bungalow Troubles"—a Sennett comedy and the British and Canadian News Weekly will complete the bill.

GAYETY.

Most burlesque shows start off with a plot and a story which are lost a few minutes after the rise of the curtain, but the "Flashlights of 1920," which will be the attraction at the Gayety all next week, goes them one better as it not only opens with a plot and a story but carries it all the way through to the final curtain. This is a brand new show this season, and fairly bubbles

ORATORICAL CONTEST HELD AT WESLEYAN

Douglas Prize Donated By Rev. Terryberry.

GOOD PROGRAMME.

Mr. George Lalonde Wins Prize and Mr. Difflorio Receives Supplement.

The annual Oratorical Contest for the Douglas Prize was held last night in the reception room of the Wesleyan Theological College. The chair was taken by the Principal, who spoke briefly concerning the donor of the prize, Rev. A. I. Terryberry, of Toronto. The first speaker was George Lalonde, B.A., who took for his subject "The Preacher and the Hebrew Bible." Mr. Lalonde immediately with the announcement of his subject, presented his arguments logically and concisely, without any bold attempts whatever to swerve into artificial oratory. A violin solo was next rendered by Mr. J. Noad, and was appreciated by all present.

The second contestant was P. Difflorio, B.A., whose subject was "Some Essentials of a successful Preacher." It was indeed a pleasure to hear Mr. Difflorio speak, considering the many embarrassments which every person meets when speaking in a language which is other than that of their native tongue. The speaker claimed that much harm and misunderstanding had been caused in the religious world "by the absurd doctrine of predestination, the misleading idea of a verbal inspired word, and of a brutal doctrine of eternal damnation."

Following, C. Gaukrodger spoke very fluently and effectively on "The Blessing of Monotony."

Robt. McMath took for his subject the "Doctrine of Non-Resistance." He started eloquently, and undoubtedly if the last minutes of his address were as effective as the first, he would have gone a long way towards being the winner of the evening.

The last speaker was A. N. Jones, whose theme was "The Blending of the Two Guiding Forces in Human Conduct." These, Mr. Jones claimed, were the Intellect and the Emotions, and dealt briefly with each.

The Judges—Rev. Prof. Graham, M.A.; Rev. Dr. Gifford, B.A., and Rev. Dr. Rose—retired, and after a short interval, Dr. Rose returned and announced that Mr. Lalonde had won the prize of the evening. Dr. Rose also announced that special recognition was to be given to Mr. Difflorio, and a supplementary augmentation would be forthcoming.

Hearty congratulations are extended to the competitors for the splendid addresses, and to Lalonde and Difflorio for achieving their desired ends.

Many thanks are due Mrs. Harold White, L.R.C.M. (London), who rendered an enjoyable musical programme, assisted by her husband.

give us in this field or any other. Mr. Oldham, who is to speak on Sunday at the morning service, has filled a large place in the religious life of Britain, and is looked upon as an international statesman in church affairs. Better still, he has kept his heart warm to student life in every country—which is the chief reason that McGill men should hear him.

A student choir of about forty-five has been mobilized from the University and the R.V.C., and an orchestra, already known in the campus, will assist with the music. Mr. Howard Nichols will preside at the piano. Mr. Oldham will speak to a smaller meeting of the two Christian Associations in Strathcona Hall at 7 p.m. on Sunday. All who are particularly interested in the work of the Student Movement here or abroad are urged to attend. He will speak for a few minutes at the "Sing" at 8.45, where no doubt he will receive a generous welcome, and will add not a little to the value and the attraction of that meeting.

over with comedy of the highest type. Richy McAllister and Harry Shannon are a corking good pair and keep the audience in good humor. Lulu Moore is a prepossessing prima donna and has a voice that will be heard to advantage. Alice Isabella is a peppery soubrette and is very conspicuous with her singing and dancing. Jeanne Brooks contributes largely to the honors as also do Billy Noble, Glenn Eastman and Jas. Slater. No expense has been spared in equipping the show and the scenery is very artistic and the color effects blend well. The management who are responsible for this end had a good eye for designing and a fine conception of what was required. The same can be said of the costumes, which are of unusual beauty. With a chorus of twenty good-looking and elaborately gowned young women and with a background of pretentious scenery, the Flashlights of 1920 is a decided departure from the ordinary burlesque.

In Which The Endorins Come Into Their Own.

(From the "Bookman," New York.)
"Admiral of the Fleet, Viscount Jellicoe of Scapa needs no introduction.
Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Fleet at Jutland, and First Lord of the Admiralty during the critical year of 1917, he is easily the foremost figure in the naval world today." It had been our thought that the C. in C. of the Grand Fleet was one Voronoff.

Le Fievre De Printemps.
I limbered up my Remington,
To do a song of Spring,
With all the good old standard rhymes
Like fling and swing and wing;
But when I got my paper in
I couldn't do a thing.

Belinda's eyes kept haunting me,
Belinda's teasing smile,
Belinda's gay, coquettish laugh,
Her every amorous wile.
Belinda's sweet perfections
Went past my eyes in file.

The face that launched a thousand ships
Was not than hers more fair,
Her voice, like heavenly harp-strings,
Of vibrant gold and rare;
My only thought her pleasure,
Her happiness my care.

But though with Remington prepared
I couldn't do a thing;
And though Belinda's eyes still shine,
Her merry accents ring,
By these same tokens I am sure,
I'm deadly sure, it's Spring.

Man's Love and Woman's.

(From Margaret Currie's Mail.)
"A man loves as deeply as a woman, but unlike a woman he does not sit in the house and think over his troubles.
He goes out and mingles with the world and its people, and tries to make the world think he is happy."
"But no one knows but himself how long he lies awake at night thinking of the one girl in the world for him.
He may go out in society and be even one of the favored few, and often when he is in the midst of a jolly crowd and seems to be the gayest of the gay he probably feels more like crying than laughing, if it were becoming for a man to do so."

"PHILOSOPHER."
Reminding one unaccountably of the old ballad which had the refrain,
"Though my heart is breaking, I'll be all smiles to-night."

How To Be Interesting Though a Pro- fessor.

Sir,—Much has been said and written about uninteresting lectures.
Lectures could be made much more attractive if all professors would do like one of mine did the other day.
Discussing measurements, this professor said, "It was not two feet. It was about a foot and a half." I felt cheered up for the remainder of the period. Yours,

TRACHOMA TIM.

A Child's Restaurant Garden of Verses.—III.

All night long and every night
When I turn off my bedside light,
I see the facts go marching by
As plain as day before my eye.

Subjunctive moods and sines and dates
And surds and laws and postulates
Go by in orderly array,
In ways they never do by day.

Such store as this I've never had
When finals come, and glum and sad
I sit, for every needful thought Occurs at night-time as it ought.

At first haphazard they, and slow,
But soon in order come and go.
In turn each stands from shadows
deep Until I lose them all in sleep.
—ANCHUSA.

Every time you draw your breath, according to Punch, someone dies. If you hold it, you die. This is indeed, as that veracious periodical says, a most distressing dilemma.

Another observation confirms our previously held opinion that the average duration of a cycle in college affairs is indeed four years. It was in 1917 that the talcum powder jest in yesterday's issue appeared last.

If this meets the eye of a certain young lady whom we think we met on Monday afternoon last, she will know that we were not as lifeless as we may have appeared.

SEMI-FINAL CITY LEAGUE BASKETBALL

Takes Place To-Night When McGill Meets M.A.A.A.

IMPORTANT GAME.

Crowd of Rooters Expected to Turn Out to Cheer Their Team to Victory.

To-night is the night the McGill
Basketball team again meets the M.A.A.A. in what promises to be a hard-fought game. This will be the last game of the season between these two teams. The winner will play off with the Highlanders for the city championship.

So far the three teams are about even in standing, but the Highlanders have played one game more than the other teams, and will, therefore, participate in the finals. Should McGill come out on top to-night she stands
a good chance of winning the city championship, as in the game against the Highlanders last Saturday night
she defeated the latter by the overwhelming score of 54 to 26. However, we cannot bank too much on this presumption. The McGill players are very erratic, especially Little and Hay. One can never tell before a game just how they are going to perform. It must be admitted that during the last few days they have shown remarkable speed in their practices, and if things go well they should put up a very good showing.

It is a peculiar, but nevertheless remarkable, fact that a college team will play with confidence in proportion as it is cheered by the lusty
voices of the rooters from college.
Especially is this true of a team that has its ups and downs in regard to form. So if you want your team to win to-night in order to participate in the finals, come out and do your bit and help to add another championship to those already attained.
Everybody is not physically, or perhaps for some other reason, capable of representing his college in major sports, but everybody can do his—or her—bit in coming out to the game
and cheering the team on to victory.
"They also serve who stand and shout."

The importance of to-night's game lies not only in the fact that it enables the winner to take part in the city finals, but if McGill wins, and also wins against the Highlanders, it will give them a chance to go up against the winners of the game between Ottawa and Grandmere for the Dominion semi-finals. If they win that game they will probably play Toronto
for the Dominion championship.
Much, therefore, hangs in the balance to-night. A large crowd is expected to root and cheer. Are you going to be in the crowd?

CANADIAN MEN OF LETTERS MET

Formed Authors' Association of Canada at Yesterday's Meeting.

Yesterday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock
there was held in the New Medical Building a meeting which should be of especial interest to University men.
The gathering was that of Canadian authors, and the purpose and result was the formation of the Authors'
Association of Canada. Sir Arthur Currie was present and addressed the meeting, which was presided over by Mr. Locke, Toronto public librarian.
Among those who attended were Sir
Arthur Stringer, Professor Edgar,
Murray Gibbon and many other men
of note in the world of literature.
A banquet at the Place Viger followed the afternoon's meeting, at which there was a large attendance.

STUDENTS TO MEET AT PRAGUE

Czechoslovak Student Federation Invite McGill Men.

A letter from the Students Czechoslovak National Federation has been received through the medium of the Czechoslovak Legation in Washington inviting the students of McGill University to attend the general assembly of the Students' International Federation which will take place in Prague, Czechoslovakia, Easter 1921. The Legation in its desire to promote more friendly relations and to give our men
the opportunity of studying conditions in Czechoslovakia has agreed to charge only half the usual passport tax to those who will travel there.
The circular attached to the letter is
as follows:

The Students' International Confederation has been established at Strasbourg, in November 1919, on the occasion of the feast in connection with the eighth meeting of students, national and interlarded, and the opening of the French University in this town. There were present delegates of the allied and neutral countries, who were also the founders of the Confederation. The first countries constituting the Confederation were:
in the first place France, Belgium and Czechoslovakia. It was required that any country should be able to become a member, which owns a national union, viz., where the majority of all students are organized into a central Federation or into a Union. The Students' International Confederation wants to create an International Centre in which the students of all countries should have connection, this helping considerably to make the acquaintance of each other. The Students' International Confederation will have their first general assembly on Easter, 1921, at Prague, Czechoslovak Republic.

SPECIAL THE DANCING AT CRO'S
FOR THE R.V.C. AND MCGILL.

It looks as though the snow has disappeared for this Saturday, and as skating would be almost swimming,
The Dancers would be a happy idea.
Cro's Club has therefore arranged a special musical programme and invites all Senior students of McGill and the R. V. C. to participate and enjoy the privileges this afternoon from 4.00 to 6.30. The more the merrier, so form your parties and come and have a really good time.
For reservation phone Up. 8975.

not fail to give this new executive their hearty support in the coming year of 1921-22.

LOOK at clothes-buying as an investment. Think of clothes in terms of value rather than price. It's what you pay that's important—our Tailored-to-Measure Clothes give you quality of materials and tailoring—right style—good appearance—faithful service
—real economy—an investment in satisfaction.

Right now, as a special inducement and to show our appreciation to our customers, we are giving ABSOLUTELY FREE A PAIR OF EXTRA PANTS with every Suit or Overcoat Tailored-to-Measure; the extra pants are of the same quality material
as the garment you order.

Suits and Overcoats Tailored-To-Your-Measure

Extra Pants of the same material Free

If every man in Canada knew the true value of our offer to Tailor-to-Measure a Suit or Overcoat and Give ABSOLUTELY FREE a pair of EXTRA PANTS of the same quality as the garment selected, we would have to call the police to help handle the crowds.

Our patrons tell us they order our Custom Tailored-to-Measure Clothes with the EXTRA FREE PANTS by comparison, that we are giving the best values they have found.

You will make no mistake by taking the advice of others and ordering a liberal supply of English & Scotch Woollen Co. Tailored-to-Measure Clothes. Visit one of our 28 Tailor Shops, and let us take your measure.

LADIES—Do you want good quality materials for your new dress or suit? We have thousands of yards to be sold at low as $2.75 per yard. This is 1/2 regular price; width 54 and 56 inches. This is an exceptional opportunity to get materials of better quality than is usually found in women's fabrics. Take care of the children's needs.

Trousers
We are showing exceptional values in odd trousers from special trouser lengths. Many of these cloths are shown in very limited quantities, and are exceptional values.
